Free Gifts And Door Prizes Offered

A new business opens its doors at 9 o'clock Friday morning when Mr. and Mrs. W. Donald Wood start a two day open house to introduce the Grayling Pharmacy. The new pharmacy is located at 203 Michigan Avenue, in the new building between the Pink Lady and Ron's Hardware. The open house, held Friday and Saturday of this week, will feature free gifts for everyone and chances on several door prizes.

The public is invited to look over the new merchandise in the air-conditioned Grayling Pharmacy and is particularly encouraged to inspect the Prescription

Landmark To Leave Scene

A landmark along the New York Central Railroad yards in Grayling will soon be a thing of the past. The towering, coal dock which has dominated the railroads as it reared its spouty roof high over the surrounding scene for the past nearly 80 years, is coming down.

The Millkin Construction Company of Grayling, working under contract from the New York Central system, started demolition of the large wooden structure this week.

Now that the engines of the railroad have been completely changed from steam to diesel, there is no longer any use for the coal dock, so it was decided to dismantle it. After preliminary work at the base of the structure, the wreckers plan on fastening a cable to the top of the dock and attempting to tumble it over in a northerly direction which is clear of buildings.

Plan Bait Factory In Maple Forest

Bert and Arno Plagens sold a piece of property comprising 8½ acres in Maple Forest, about 8½ miles east of Frederic, last Saturday to Robert D. Edgingfield of Detroit, Ohio. Mr. Edgingfield plans to build a bait factory there. He will manufacture artificial fish lures and expects to have the plant finished and operations started within a year. The land is now being cleared by Bert Plagens so that building can be as soon as possible.

INDIES IN ACTION HERE SATURDAY NITE

The Bear Independents, Grayling's independent basketball team, will be in action here at the new gym, this Saturday night, meeting a fast, strong independent cage quintet from Mackinaw City. The evening's program will get underway at 7:30 p.m. with a preliminary contest with the main game slated for 8:30 p.m. Last Saturday night, the Bears were to meet the powerful Ormsbee Motors team from Cheboygan which inadvertently was reported as to have been played at Cheboygan. The game was to have been played here but the stormy weather from Cheboygan here impossible.

Saturday night's game will be the first appearance on the home court for the Bears since Saturday night, January 7 and a large crowd of basketball fans is expected to turn out.

Grayling P. T. A. Hears Rev. R. C. Puffer

About fifty people attended the January meeting of the Grayling P. T. A. Wednesday of last week to hear the Rev. R. C. Puffer's impressions of the White House Conference. He confined his report to two points hitherto not covered in his local appearances: 1. What can we expect of our schools? and 2. How can we get good teachers and keep them?

At present there is a recognized need for 205,000 teachers and 274,000 classrooms. In five years the shortage of teachers will have risen to one million. Obviously this is a situation which will not which cannot correct itself. Definite action must be taken if such a serious condition as now exists is to be halted.

Five general aims of the schools as set down by the Conference were:

The possibility for every child to experience self-realization to develop his full potential; the attainment of social adjustment for every adult; that every child may gain the knowledge necessary to economic efficiency; that he be instilled with a sense of civic responsibility; that each maintains good health and understands the contributions to it.

Mr. Puffer stated that although the financial aspect of the conclusions seems enormous, we would be making a mistake if we looked no further. "Education, in the long run, pays for itself. Education makes more productive people."

In achieving the five aims mentioned, specific recommendations were set up, among them, teaching our children an appreciation of the beliefs of others, teaching them self-discipline, stimulating their intellectual curiosity and creating an awareness of their relationship to a world society.

Schools must have an effective guidance program if the individual is to thrive. They must be free to speak truth wherever they may find it. They must provide for turning out a well-rounded student.

The problem of getting good teachers calls on the community. Before accepting a position, a teacher will naturally want to learn about the town. What can it offer him? Can it adequately house him? Is it a community that respects his profession? All teachers, everywhere, should be of the type to merit the respect and appreciation of their townspeople, and then receive it.

Mr. Puffer's address was a challenge to every parent and teacher present. The P. T. A. was fortunate to have been given the opportunity to hear a first-hand account of so important a proceeding.

After the business meeting coffee and cookies were served by the fourth grade mothers under the direction of Mrs. Emil Gieger.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, February 29th. Joseph Stripe will present his always interesting safety program.

Kiwanis Club Notes

Fred Bear brought a most unusual and interesting program to the Monday night meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Grayling. He was presented by Vice President Joseph Stripe who was in charge of the program.

Mr. Bear screened his movies of his African safari last winter. The movies, in color and with sound, were of great interest to all.

Following the movie, the speaker field a question and answer period in which many highlights of the trip were brought out.

William Hines gave a report on the potluck dinner which the club served at the Lone Pine Inn last Thursday. He told the club that Carroll Wert had furnished the building, equipment and even the food. There was no charge to the club whatsoever and as a result $100.00 was turned over to the March of Dimes. Secretary Robert Bovee gave a report on the Kiwanis Christmas project in which many highlights of the trip were brought out.

Woman's Club

The Grayling Woman's Club met Monday night for their business meeting at the home of Mrs. Earl Burns. From there they proceeded to the Crawford County Avalanche, where they were shown through the entire plant by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strong, owners.

The some 35 ladies present thoroughly enjoyed seeing how the printing machinery is operated, how the newspapers are folded, how the files are kept, and how job printing is done. They also enjoyed a sneak preview of this week's newspaper.

The club members wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. Strong, Whitley Madsen, Leroy Papendick and Bruce Nielsen, who were all on hand to operate the various pieces of machinery and to answer any and all questions. They also appreciated the souvenir pads and pencils handed out at the Avalanche.

Following the tour, which was a follow-up of an invitation given by Mr. Strong at one of last year's club meetings, the ladies returned to Mrs. Burns' home, where they enjoyed refreshments furnished by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Leslie Hunter, Mrs. Don Kangas, Mrs. Stephan Jorgenson and Mrs. Robert Bovee.

The club's next meeting will be

Dr. J. P. Cook, James Post, Willard Cornell and Clare Madson have purchased the property known as the AuSable View Farm just west of the city limits off M-72 and on the AuSable River. Phillip Heck of Detroit was the former owner having purchased it from Harold MacNeven of Grayling who had obtained it from the Wolf family.

The evening's program will get underway at 7:30 p.m. with a preliminary contest with the main game slated for 8:30 p.m. Last Saturday night, the Bears were to meet the powerful Ormsbee Motors team from Cheboygan which inadvertently was reported as to have been played at Cheboygan.

Work has already started on the construction of the new road across the pond, backed up by the river, which will make lots available on the north side of the stream. The farm covers 110 acres and about 2,800 feet of river frontage. Home sites will be available both with and without river frontage.

The four new owners plan to clean up the property, filling in the low-spots and construct a road through it. It will then be subdivided in lots. The property will be developed by the new owners into sites for home buildings and will probably be named AuSable View Park.

"YOUR PARTNER IN PROGRESS"

by ART GOODRICH

The saying used to go that people were putting "the cart before the horse." A wag who was in our place the other day said that nowadays too many people put "the car before the house."

Sure, a car is an important investment. But figures I came across the other day pointed out the really dramatic way in which cars are becoming cheaper all the time.

In 1908, the finest car on the road was the Cadillac Model G limousine. It was really dandy with its four-cylinder, 25-horsepower engine, its passengers' seat upholstered in goatskin and ceiling trimmed in satin. At no extra cost you got a cut-glass flower vase and a speazing tube for shooting at the chauffeur out on his drafty front porch.

Based on federal government figures of the time, that car cost 3,100 bushels of wheat or 15,700 hours of factory labor at the average rates of the day.

Today, the current Chevrolet, a far better car in every way (even without the flower vase) costs less than 900 bushels of wheat and just under 1,000 hours of average factory labor.

And, in terms of wheat and factory work, today's Chevy costs less than the Chevy of 1940.

New cars, with their advantages of style, lower maintenance costs and good trade-in value, are becoming a better and better buy. Especially with the tremendous advances this year, the one-year or two-year trader is becoming the smart car buyer.

Of course, with more people trading in their cars in one and two years, makes very good bargains available for those looking for a good used car. Our lot has several excellent, clean, sharp used car bargains. We now have a salesman to help you in selecting one of the fine used cars too. Drop in and see Livyn Dornmire, he'll be glad to help you select a real transportation bargain.

Arithmetic In Our Sixth Grade

WHAT WE TEACH AND HOW WE TEACH IT

Pictured above are Grayling school Sixth Graders of the blackboard working out a problem in arithmetic. Setting up the blackboard work in the way of a contest students seem to learn much more quickly and much more happily.

By Mrs. Robert Klein

Arithmetic tests and workbooks like everything else have been modernized. No longer do we spend time on long complicated problems which likely will never be applicable to real life situations. Everyone uses simple arithmetic in purchasing food, clothing and other general supplies. Seldom does one see the customer go into a grocery store with a pencil and figure his total grocery bill before the checker totals it, but one more frequently sees individuals roughly estimating what they can expect to pay. This sort of thing we call Mental Arithmetic.

Mental Arithmetic must be made very simple at first but as we all work together we are unaware of this. In the first instance our mind is so active that the routine school work we begin by silently adding simple columns of figures with the teacher giving the numbers and adding them herself with the students. No pencils are used. When we become more accurate and rapid in this we progress to two columns and, once in awhile, a three column problem, depending on the length of the columns. In these we leave our books open but avoid using pencils. This is good for a child using what we call a "written" adding on his fingers or tapping his paper or the blackboard instead of thinking out the results. This slows up the child and often he is less accurate than the student who actually took time earlier to learn the combinations.

From addition we progress to subtraction. We may be able to do two or three column problems, using the open book. If we have a too difficult problem we use paper and pencil or some student may work it for us, while we watch on the blackboard. Sometimes the problem is placed on the board and different students on the teacher copies their answers. This helps to keep up the interest since the last one subtracting is generally accorded the honor of reading the answer aloud. This is not as simple as it seems for adults as well as children have a bad habit of inserting ANDS when reading a very large number. Though our text does not tell us until we are in decimals, the students are shown immediately on the fall that a decimal point just appear in any figure where an AND is inserted. This is like a game with us and we watch ourselves. Students are frequently asked to repeat answers if this mistake is made, that it may be discovered by the one erring. He may frown or look puzzled but if a smile appears on classmates faces the answer is repeated without an AND and a grin likewise appears on the reader's face. Smiles and frowns are encouraged to last as they do not hurt the other students but if we laugh at someone's mistakes we must be able to enjoy the laugh when it concerns us, too.

Now we are ready for multiplication but first we must review our tables. For those who have learned them well in the lower grades it is an easy matter to recall them but for those who are careless, and never really memorized them it is a bit trying at first for them to learn them outside of school hours. We usually test to quickly discover those who are weak in them and then request immediate home drill. We find most parents very co-operative and before long everyone is progressing nicely. Two or three figures are multiplied by a single figure, generally without pencils. If two figure multipliers or more are used we may work them in class at our seats, the teacher passing about checking, assisting and marking with pointing out errors and how corrections may be made to obtain the proper results.

In division which we now advance to we have a real need of our tables. We merely use our multiplication and subtraction but accuracy is most essential. If we are able to use short division then our pencils are idle. We especially stress proper placing of figures in the quotients to avoid trouble when we do decimals.

We study the more advanced Roman numerals but most of these are a review of those used in lower grades.

From now on much of our time will be spent with fractions, decimals, and a brief introduction of percentages. Circles are drawn on the boards. We call them pies as most of us enjoy food. We cut these pies into fractional parts, attempting to get each person to recognize the bottom or fraction, the denominator, as the number of equal parts that when pie is cut in, while the top number numerator, is the number of pieces or parts that we are working with in that particular problem, reminding them too that the line between the numerator and denominator means divide the same as either of our other two division symbols.

We learn to add and subtract fractions, many of which we do orally. We seem to have greater difficulty in borrowing in fractions. They aren't really difficult if only we could remember we borrow a whole, having the same number of parts as our common denominator, which we learned to find when we first learned to add unlike fractions.

In multiplying fractions we and Company, and Fordon, Aldinger and Company, all investment banking houses. Mr. Hume's work with these investment houses covered a period from 1927 to 1956; with him coming here directly from Fordon, Aldinger and Company.

Students are divided into four rows for drill in fundamentals. One from each row passes to the board those remaining in the row and gives the same problem as those at the board. The teacher keeps the answer book open for the students at their seats so they may check their results while she watches for the first correctly worked problem for scoring. In case of ties we work another problem. Because of the variation of work we may find one row making a big gain one day and slumping on another as some students are more proficient than others. In addition all who do not get the answers correct at the board remain until errors are found or assistance is given, depending if the student understands the materials well enough to make self-correction. One might assume the self checking by those at their seats might cause more confusion but once students get started there is an urge to see if their answer is correct but at the same time most students will then try again if they are not sure and if they don't understand will stop for help from the teacher, and little confusion results.

Many of our simple fractions are done orally and individually during the class period, the student explaining the steps in obtaining the correct results. Much satisfaction is found by the student in being able to explain his work and have the group's approval. By nods of heads or the stress using the times and equal symbols and keeping the fractions in the exact original order for then it is an easy step to division of fractions, in which the second fraction is always inverted and then the same process is used and the outcome is multiplication. Cancelation is sought as soon as we start multiplication of fractions, simplifying the problems and yet accomplishing the desired results.

Why Without a Newspaper

What is like to live in a city without a regular paper?

The people of Detroit know — after a prolonged shut down all three of its dailies. The merchants of the city learned it particularly well — the day. They used all the other media to the limit. Stores put out handbills of their own, to advertise holiday wares. Yet, though Christmas trade country as a whole was well above last year, Detroit stores did less business. The lack of news was responsible.

Again, the merchants faced a fresh problem at holiday sale time. They had bargains and specials — but moving them was another matter, with newspaper advertising space.

The community problems that arise from lack of papers are certainly not limited to the big cities. Smaller towns are equally dependent upon the dailies and dailies that serve them. In the small town, the newspaper is a running record of its — a thread that constantly touches the lives of people who live there. And, despite the newer it remains the most effective means of advertising for merchants and others.

Ininitely more important, the newspaper, small or is a guardian of our rights and liberties which stays on duty.

Be Welcomed

The fear that automation will create widespread employment flies in the face of history. Every improvement in production methods, along with every invention of importance, has ultimately produced not jobs, but more and better jobs.

The automobile destroyed the horse and buggy buggies — but an almost infinite increase in employment opportunity followed. More recently, prophetic gloom forecast that dial telephones would bring

Listen To Our Former Presidents

In his memoirs, Harry Truman speaks of the incredibly heavy burden of work that is imposed upon the President. Now Herbert Hoover suggests that Congress create the office of an administrative vice-president, legally empowered to administer many duties of a relatively routine nature that are presently borne by the President.

We should certainly heed the words of our only two living former Presidents. The job, as now constituted, is a potential killer. In addition, it is absolutely impossible for any man to discharge the unnecessarily multitudinous responsibilities of the Presidency efficiently and fully.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

February 2, 1933

By the margin of the difference between 24 and 26 Alpena took a ball game here last Friday night. Eight field goals apiece meant a battle from the foul line, and the Avalanche from the north got ten out of fifteen while the Northern Lights managed eight out of fourteen tries. There was the margin of victory.

A handful of statistics concerning northeastern Michigan trout streams is going to eliminate that old alibi "the fish weren't there" if handlers of the rod and reel return empty handed from this section.

Mr. and Mrs. Gil Runkel of Detroit were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Webb Saturday. Mr. Runkel referred to the Grayling-Alpena basketball game.

Charles Wylie, who spent the week end at the home of his mother, Mrs. Floyd Goshorn, returned to Olivet College Monday night to resume his studies for the second semester.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul LaBrash had a large, happy gathering at their home last Saturday evening. The affair was in honor of the birthday anniversary of Henry Jordan and an enjoyable time was had dancing and a nice lunch was served to about fifty people.

The AuSable Welfare Club met at the home of Mrs. John Stephan last Thursday afternoon. For welfare work a quilt was tied off.

Mrs. Stephan visited the rules of the Club by serving refreshments, but no one seemed to resent it.

Mrs. Dave Knell was a guest of the Club.

A very pleasant surprise party sponsored by some of the men of the community was held last Saturday evening at Wa-Wa-Sum in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doremire and family. Five tables of pinochle and pedro were played.

At a late hour a potluck lunch prepared and served by the men was enjoyed. Later they capped the climax by washing the dishes. The ladies voted it all a great success and a rare treat greatly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Matthews, Mrs. Roy Wolcott and Mrs. Albert Knibbs drove to Roscommon yesterday and visited Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Berli (Laura Knibbs).

Miss Ella Hanson left Wednesday night for Boston, Mass., where she will spend a few days as the guest of Mr. James Sherison, who is attending Harvard University. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Schneider of Boyne City spent Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Gorman and family. On their return trip they were accompanied by Maurice Gorman, Sr., who has been visiting his son and family for some time.

Donald Herrick came up from Detroit Friday and visited over the weekend with his father, Luther Herrick, and brother, Gerald. He was accompanied by a friend, Arthur Brink.

45 Years Ago — February 3, 1911

Miss Anne Melström spent part of this week in Bay City.

Robert Reagan attended the K. C. Ball at Cheboygan Tuesday evening.

Anton Johnson of Maple Forest visited his brother at Wayne last week and of course took in the show at Detroit in passing through.

Miss Lillie Fischer entertained the Alexander Club Friday evening. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening spent.

James Smith of Frederic was in Detroit last week on business concerning the Ward estate. He did not buy as it is not declared necessary in his lumbering operations.

The Gaylord Herald says that the Boyne City, Gaylord and Alpena railroad is making preparations to extend their railroad to Hillman to connect with the D. & M. railroad, which opened to traffic last month to the latter place.

R. W. Brink and mother, Mrs. Wm. Brink were in Saginaw and Bay City for the forepart of the week.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE AVALANCHE

WE KNEW IT WAS GOOD

-but oh, brother!

We De-Haunt Houses—

Is your house haunted? Not with the sound of clanking chains or with wraithlike ladies wandering about at midnight; but with the spectre of insufficient insurance protection should your house be destroyed by fire or other catastrophes.

You may have sufficient fire insurance—but you also need Extra Living Expense insurance to reimburse you for the difference between what it normally costs to conduct your household and what it would cost should you have to live elsewhere, under emergency conditions.

We will gladly give you details on this extra protection.

AMERICAN INSURANCE GROUP

IT STARTED right on announcement I day.

On that day, we made bold to call this the Best Buick Yet. (A pretty big statement, we're sure you'll agree.)

But, in the scant three months since then, we've had ample proof of how more-than-right we were.

Not just from the tremendous initial interest shown in the new 1956 Buicks—

Not alone from the way our sales have zoomed past all expectations—

But more, especially and more clearly and more positively from the enthusiastic "play back" that's coming from happy new-Buick owners.

So, if you'd like the story firsthand—see if you can get a '56 Buick owner to stand still long enough to tell it to you.

For it's a real news story you'll hear about:

You'll hear about a wallopin'-big new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine that delivers its record-high power with the obedience of a bird dog.

You'll hear about a terrific new Variable Pitch Dynaflo™ that gives double-action take-off and instant acceleration right in the driving range—along with a thrifty boost in gas-saving mileage. Yet, when you do floor the pedal to switch the pitch —you get an extra abundance of safety-surge power to pull out of tight spots on the highway.

You'll hear about a new "sweetness" of ride made even more buoyant by deep-oil cushioning and all-coil springing—and about a new ease of handling and steering—and a new four-footed sureness when taking the turns.

So what's left to be told?

Except the news of brilliant new Buick styling inside and out—which you can see for yourself. And the question, "How much?"—which only you can answer.

For, you can go all the way from the bedrock-priced SPECIAL—to the high-stepping CENTURY—to the outstanding SUPER—and on to the custom-built ROADMASTER.

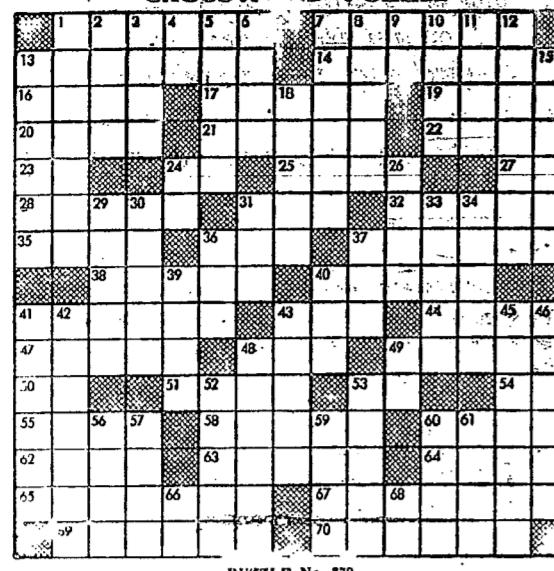

Why not come in—right soon? Learn how easy we'll make it for you to step into the '56 Buick circle—with out busting out of your budget.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo™ is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Union Phone Given Service Rate Increase

The Michigan Public Service Commission today authorized an increase in rates for telephone service to the Union Telephone Company to be effective February 1, 1956. The increase granted will amount to $492,000.00 per year, or about 80% of the raise requested by the Company in its application.

The Company, which serves approximately 86,000 telephones in 76 exchanges located in the Lower Peninsula, applied for an increase in its rates in December, 1954. Hearings were held in January and May, 1955.

Schools Enjoy Safety Program

Once again popular Jerry McSafety visited Grayling with his master, Wayne Fernelius, to entertain and instruct the children of St. Mary's school and those up to the 6th grade of the Grayling public school. The little policeman-ventriloquist was presented by Welsh Motor Sales of Grayling.

Jerry McSafety's illustrated lectures are practically a command performance with youngsters. He demonstrated with songs, stories and fascinating charts the practical, common-sense safety rules for children of every age. He left a lasting impression in the minds of his youthful audiences.

Jerry McSafety and Wayne Fernelius have appeared at schools, lodges, churches and many other groups to dramatize the need for careful observance of approved safety rules.

Fernelius and his wooden but quick-witted wooden child, complete with regulation police uniform, arrived at 9:30 A. M. Tuesday of last week at the new gymnasium and again at 10:45 at St. Mary's school and was very well received. After his performance, he and Sergeant Fernelius made a public appearance at Welsh Motor Sales, where Jerry distributed autographed post cards.

County Exceeds 1955 Savings Bond Quota

Crawford County residents purchased $125,890 worth of U. S. Savings Bonds in 1955, helping the State of Michigan to exceed its quota for the year and to chalk up a new 10 year high for the sale of Series E and H bonds. It was announced today by Nobel D. Travis, state chairman of the Treasury's U. S. Savings Bonds Division.

Bond purchases in Crawford County were equivalent to 136.7 per cent of the 1955 goal of $75,775. Purchases totaled $90,479 in 1954.

In announcing the county record, Travis warmly commended County Savings Bond Committee Chairman John H. Peterson, other volunteers, and financial institutions in the area for their patriotic efforts in connection with the Savings Bonds Program.

Dolmar V. Cote, state sales director for the Savings Bonds Division, announced that Crawford County's quota for 1956 had been set at $77,895.

These tests show how and what kind of a problem the person has. Recommendations can then be made for medical attention, use of a hearing aid, special instruction, or other measures of assistance.

The mobile unit of the Michigan Association is a specially built and equipped trailer which offers a space relatively free from interfering noise. It is equipped to administer several different types of hearing tests. The pure tone audiometric test measures the ability to hear tones of different pitches. Other tests measure ability to hear and interpret to a later date to all who are found to have hearing problems.

These services are free. The Michigan Association for Better Hearing is supported by the Michigan United Fund through local Community Chests of Michigan.

Scouts To Mark 46th Birthday

The nation's 4,100,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and adult leaders will launch their Four-Year program, "Onward for God and My Country," during Boy Scout Week, February 6 to 12, marking the organization's 46th anniversary.

Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive, says the new program seeks "through organized and trained man power to give an increasingly better program to an increasing number of the nation's youth" and to "help today's youth to 'Be Prepared' as citizens of character, to be prepared in body, skill, spirit, mind, and as a member of a team."

He declares it will give youth further opportunity to develop physical fitness, self-reliance, the fulfillment of one's obligation to God, a sense of personal responsibility, a spirit of helping people, a willingness to share, and an understanding of the government's democratic processes.

During Boy Scout Week plans will be completed for the strictly nonpolitical 1956 National Give-Out-The-Vote Campaign which the Scout organization is sponsoring jointly with the Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge. Scouts distributed in 1952 more than 1,000,000 posters and placed 30,000 Liberty Bell doorknob hangers in their first nation-wide get-out-the-vote effort. This effort was said to be an important factor in the record turnout of sixty million voters in 1952.

It is believed that four million Scouts and adult leaders can be a great influence among parents, relatives, neighbors, and others to produce another record vote this year.

The campaign seeks to instill in adults the determination and responsibility to exercise their franchise as free people and take a more active part in their government. Each Scout will have an opportunity to participate and better understand his responsibility as a citizen.
